A Pouroguese, named Ferminiano da Piuna, was charged at the Police Court today with keeping an unmuzzled and ferocious dog. A chair coolie said he was passing the defendant's door in Mosque Junction when the dog flew at him and bit him. Evidence, however, was given by T. Goods per Ningchow undelivered after M. On the case being called to-day he said he was convinced the coolie was endeavouring to. chest his master and sentenced him to a month's imprisonment.

A VANCOUVER firm in sending a remittance the other day to a firm in Yokohama said they were unable to obtain a bill of exchange on any of the banks connected with the Far East because these had no branches or agencies. In view of the probable extension of the business between here and Vancouver and Canada generally, we should W READY FOR think the establishment of a branch of any of the local banks at the other terminus of the Canadian. > THE Mainichi Shimbun save a citizen San Francisco has requested the Japanese Government to supply him with thirty jinrikisha men for the purposes of opening a business in jinrikishas in that city. Our contemporary says several questions have been raised by the Tokio Magistrates about the matter, and though two months have passed since the request was made no reply has yot been sent. It hears, however, that a consultation on the subject will be held to-morrow, and a decision arrived at. If the request is complied with, we pity the poor jinrikisha men who may be selected. They ought to prepare themselves for a period of persecution. - Jupan Gazette.

THE LOSS OF THE LENNOX. The report which we published two days ago with regard to the loss of the Lennox has been confirmed. The Japanese sank and has not been seen since. Some time afterwards the mat-The Austro-Hungarian Lloyd's S. N. From the statements made by the men on board would appear that the Japanese was making merry at dinner with his friends, and having become somewhat intoxicated? was making more noise than was desirable. MEDICAL EDUCATION IN CHINA. About two years, ago the desirability of establishing a technical college in Hongkong was strongly urged in these columns -both by a correspondent in the North and by ourselves - upon the attention the Government and the public of this Colony. We wished to see here a college. where Chinese students might come and . make then solves acquainted with Western scionce and Western arts, and might gain. China; and in process of time, enlightment spread, they might, come to fill high positions in the administration of that Empire. The position of Hongkong, it was pointed out, was admirably suited for the carrying through-of such a West; and as through that door factured goods of the West, so through it there ought to come the means of obtaining that science and skill that would raise China to a higher level in the comity of nations. Indeed, the advantages of the establishment of such a College both to that it is almost needless to insist on it will doubtless have a locale of its own, . Hongkong, however, no doubt felt that it had too many schemes for its own immediate improvement to pay much attention to the furtherance of the arts and allowed to slip by; and now this work, The presence here also of the Army magistracy between Fong Ayau and Ng ought to be the grand base of supplies for hour, to escape the consequences of his act. that the public might be excluded from the which we still think Hongkong was pre-eminently fitted to undertake, will likely be accomplished in the chief cities of China dical military duty, and we are glad to see prisoners were going home together, and secure the bulk of that whole trade. movement that is to precede a great upheaval in the Middle Kingdom or is merely been hatched in the North are of a most doubtful character, and we fear that very little real benefit will come out of them. They savour too much of the ex-Khedive of Egypt's notions of progress, and the result may be to bring China into as great a sea of troubles as the land of the Pharaohs is tiow in. True progress is necessarily slow and can only be permanent when the whole mass is moved. It is for this reason that we hail with far greater satisfaction the establishment of a Medical College at Hong. kong than we did the grand banking, rail way, telephone project for which the famous Polish Count was said to have received a commission. The day may have gone by when it was possible to make Hongkong. a University centre for China, where all the arts and sci-nces might be taught; but the opportunity is still offered to us of founding a college here, which shall be a centre of true medical instruction for the whole of China. And by and by, if the enterprise is successful, as we have no doubt it will, the success may lead us to undertake larger schemes; for, although what is being done. in Tientsin just now may meet the meagrewants of to-day, we feel sure that here as everywhere, one branch of knowledge as it ap eads itself over a land will make room for others, and the demand for colleges and schools will increase.
